

Spidey swings into theaters!

With great power comes great responsibility. These words are very familiar to any Spiderman movie goer, as they are the last words Uncle Ben says to Peter in the first movie before he dies. Spiderman 3 is packed with action, some great drama, and an ending battle that could rightly end the trilogy.

The movie begins not too far off from where the 2nd ended. We see the glory that Peter Parker is receiving as Spiderman; his life is great, but things soon change for him. The list of things gone bad for Parker are sky high including: MJ and he fighting, losing his job to the new guy, having a new Goblin around town, and a man who appears to be made of sand.

The origins of Sandman were something that I was very grateful to have seen. Some have said that he was a terrible character in this movie, while I feel that without him Spiderman 3 would have been boring. The three villains in the third movie are a cool effect. We get to see the struggle of three men wanting to kill one man which provides an excellent plotwork. At just under three hours, this movie can tire an audience. However, if you went to this movie for a quick hour and a half battle between Spidey and Venom, you need not show up.

One downside was that it took so long for Venom to show up. However, when he did show up, wow! It was totally worth the wait! Again, the movie shows the nerd in Parker. Most overlook this quality, but in the true sense of Spiderman, Parker was a complete geek. The emphasis was shown when Parker turns gothically nerdy with his new black suit. The change was overdone, but rightly so. I feel more educated on how to show off in a cool night club after seeing Parker do it halfway through the movie.

The power seen in the suit comes full force when Parker finds out that Flint (Sandman) is the true killer of his uncle. (Don't worry, that isn't a plot killer. They tell that about 15 minutes into the movie.) All in all, I was very happy with this movie. Like I always say, it's a must see. (Right Hon?) Summer movies, begin!

SUMMER MOVIES to watch

By: Jason Hon

So what else is on the way this Summer other than basking by the pool, playing frisbee or scoring chicks (like us reviewers know how to do)? Here are some flicks you might want to keep your eye out for:

Pirates of the Caribbean: At Worlds End- Last summer the second Pirates movie left us hanging with one of the biggest cliffhangers in history. I'll see you at the midnight showing, Savvy?

Shrek the 3rd- Never thought I would be excited to see a big, fat, smelly green creature, but Shrek is coming back to save the day. All the great voice talents return in the quest to find the new king of the land of Far, Far Away.

Hostel: Part 2- I thought I should let you know that the sequel of the gory torture flick will be coming out in June. Expect more of what the first had: Sadistic people, lots of blood, and you know, that other stuff.

Harry Potter and the Order of the Phoenix- The fifth installment of the seven part franchise is coming to theaters mid-July and judging from the previews, this one is looking to be the most intense film so far.

Transformers- Not much has to be said for this movie to sound interesting. Its giant computer generated robots fighting in our real world (not animated.)

The Simpsons Movie- The movie looks hilarious and if you ever liked the show, than you shouldn't miss it...Doh!!! The movie will open WORLD WIDE July 27.

Aside from these fantastic flicks, there will be several others gracing the cinema this sensational summer. These movies might be amazing, they may be huge disappointments, but either way it will be around two hours of sitting in an air conditioned Movie Theater. See you all there!

Goodnight, and Good Luck...

Goodbye everybody! I've got to go! Gotta leave you all behind and face the truth. Well, just off to University of Northern Iowa.

I have enjoyed educating you all on the ways of the Lopez Movieness. From "Da Vinci Code" to "Smokin' Aces" to "Spidey 3," I have given you the go's and don'ts... mmm don'ts...

Sorry! I had a Simpson's movie moment. By the way, go see that movie for all of us. Go see it for your baby's and for Alex Ryser's bald head!

It's been fun, and I now leave you with a barrage of memorable movie quotes that say goodbye... kind of...

"I'm not even supposed to be here today." "It doesn't matter what you have faith in, just as long as you have faith."

"This field, this game, is a part of our past, Ray. It reminds us of all that once was good, and could be again." "I ain't heard no fat lady!"

"We're not your classic superheros. We're not the favorites. We're the other guys."

"Hasta la vista, baby" "To infinity and beyond!" "Here's lookin' at you kid."

"Mama always said life is like a box of chocolate, you never know what you're gonna get."

"They've got you trapped Rose and you're gonna die if you don't break free. Maybe not right away because your strong but sooner or later that fire that I love about you Rose, that fire is gonna burn out."

"If I'm not back in five minutes... just wait longer."

"I am not crazy! I'm just a little emotional right now, ok? Ya'll throwing all this stuff at me, man! Look, I mean, after this is over, can I like get a hug from you or somethin'?"

"Remember, the force will be with you, always."

"Sincerely Yours: The Breakfast club."

"Is this heaven? No, its Iowa."

Hi-Ho Mongolian Grill comes to Moline

Hi Ho Mongolian Grill on 23rd Ave. located where the old Ponderosa was, is a success. The first Hi Ho Mongolian grill opened in Davenport in 2004 and proved to be a wonderful success.

When one enters the new restaurant, one can see a collection of Asian inspired artwork and a buffet that starches almost the length of the store. Most people make their own Asian meal, but it is possible to order from a menu.

There are three size bowls: Little Khan, Mighty Khan, and Barbarian, all with all you can eat stipulations. Es-entially, you walk down the buffet filled with raw veggies, meat, and noodles and fill your bowl.

At the end, before the grill, there is an assortment of sauces; you can choose the combination of how you want it to taste. Making it spicy or sweet is up to you.

Then, in front of you, your creation is cooked by the chefs on a gigantic wok. If your lucky, they might even do a trick as they finish. Each meal comes with egg drop soup and rice filling up most anyone.

The prices differ from lunch and dinner; lunch is $1.25 cheaper and with either lunch or dinner you can get out of there for less than $10.00.
